“The Love Potion” By Evelyn De Morgan -
<https://artsandculture.google.com/asset/the-love-potion-evelyn-de-morgan/EgF0gpSzDobY8Q>,
Public Domain, <https://commons.wikimedia.org/w/index.php?curid=1147033>

At the moment, at Tullie House Museum in Carlisle, there is an exhibition of Pre-Raphaelite art based around the theme of the legends of King Arthur and his Knights of the Round Table.

This painting caught my eye. It’s by Evelyn De Morgan and it shows Sir Tristan with his lover Isolde. That’s them through the window in the distance. The story is that King Mark of Cornwall sent Tristan to fetch his bride Isolde over from Ireland, but somehow, they drank a love potion on the way and so tragically fell in love with one another. This painting, then, shows the sorceress mixing a love potion.

However, it’s not all as pagan as it might at first seem.

Evelyn De Morgan has chosen her palette of colours quite consciously to give a hidden meaning. Black (the cat in the bottom right) stands for sin and ungodliness. There is a white towel behind the sorceress on the bench, and white stands for purity. To get to the purity, we need the red blood of Jesus, and there, on the tapestry to the left, are red lions (the “Lion of Judah” – Rev. 5.5). All of which leads us to the gold of her dress, which speaks of Divinity and holiness.

The woman in gold holds a chalice and is pouring something into it. Perhaps it’s a reminder to us as Christians that the real “love potion” isn’t something brewed up by witches. Instead, it’s in the communion service with the bread and chalice that we are reminded just how much God loved the world and poured out his love, so that we ourselves can move from the blackness of sin, to one day be clothed in royal robes of righteousness. (Is. 61:10)

The exhibition at Tullie House is on until June 3rd. Well worth a visit!

Rev Dave

"We'd like to thank Rory, Zoey, Skyler and Alice of Class 1 at Culgaith School for their lovely drawings celebrating the Coronation of King Charles III. Some more drawings by pupils of Class 1 are shown on the inside back cover."

MEMO celebrates its longest serving contributor.

Whilst browsing through past copies, we discovered a number of alternative suggestions had been made when a competition was run in 1976 to find a short name for the magazine: “The Helmet”, “Bar Cloud News”, “The Link” and “The Hallelujah Express” all lost out to Jeremy Godwin’s suggestion, an abbreviated version of Mid-Eden Magazine—“MEMO”.

Also in 1976, Jeremy wrote his first contribution to the magazine and, since then, each month he has researched and written articles for us about local events from 100 years ago.

Jeremy’s breadth of interest in local affairs and wealth of knowledge are truly impressive. He contributes to other local publications, and is known as far off as the Island of Lewis, where his newspaper correspondence has led to changes in local regulations. He is also a very entertaining raconteur!

We are very grateful to Jeremy for his contributions to MEMO: he helps us to see our present from a broader historical perspective and has surprised many readers by his revelations about past family members.

To mark his service over so many years, and to express our gratitude, members of the MEMO committee met him in Penrith Library, where he conducts his weekly research using micro-films, and presented him with a small gift.

The photograph shows Jeremy holding a copy of MEMO from September 1976.

GUARDIANS OF CULGAITH TARN - PLANTFEST

The tarn committee will be staging a Plantfest event on its meadow on Saturday, 20th May from 10 am to 12 noon to raise much-needed funds as its coffers are very depleted due to not being able to hold fund-raising events during Covid.

If you are a gardener and will be splitting plants (flower or veg), we would be very grateful for some. Similarly, if you are sowing seeds, we would love any spares you may have. We will also be having stalls selling used gardening books and gardening tools (no power tools please) and used ceramic/clay pots (no plastic ones please).

We hope to have an "Ask the Expert" session and to attract stalls from garden related firms in the area. We will also be staging a raffle if anybody has something they would like to donate.

If you good folk would like to donate, would you mind hanging on to them until nearer the time please and we will give further details on the posters. We can collect if necessary. Thank you.

Skirwith Village Hall - Coronation Soup and Cake Lunch

Tuesday May 9th 2023 - 12.00 to 1.30

We are having a special soup and cake lunch to celebrate the Coronation of King Charles III. Cumbria has a special place in the King's heart and he is Head of the Church, so it seems appropriate therefore to donate the proceeds to our historic village church which is in need of some lucrative TLC. Usual fare but with a festive spirit.

A welcome awaits at Langwathby Methodist Church

Thurs 4th May from 10.15: "Meeting Point"

Enjoy a cup of coffee and good company!

Thurs 18th May from 10.30: "Oasis"

Coffee followed by an informal reflective service and light lunch

(For more information ring 01768 881407)

150 Years Ago

Christmas in Langwathby used to be rumbustious for then they had the 'Stanging Day', but now the bobby suppresses it (see note below). This year (1872) it was the Langwathby Village Library Opening and Tea Party, with speech by Mr. James Gordon, Headmaster of QEGS, Penrith.

Note:

('Stanging' in open places was making a row outside the house of an unpopular person)

Dear Neighbours,

We are Badger Class from Langwathby School. We are writing to you as we recently held a litter pick on the lane behind school and were shocked by what we found.

Unfortunately, some members of our community, whether residents or visitors, are not caring for our local environment. Incredibly, we found 170 pieces of plastic, 47 filled poo bags and 58 bits of paper/card alongside a mountain of other rubbish.

Not only is the waste unsightly but we are fearful for the safety of children and animals as they may get stuck, hurt or sick from the pollution.

Worryingly, we found 28 glass bottles, some of which were broken. These could cause some serious injuries.

We really hope we can work together to help make Langwathby a nicer and cleaner place for us all to live in. Please can we ALL pick up our litter!

With concern

Badger Class (Years 2 & 3)

LANGWATHBY MAY DAY PARADE

Mayson attends Langwathby School, he's got 2 younger sisters and his hobbies are football and drawing.
